PEDLER WAS A CHESS PLAYER

Best His Opponent on a Board Square in a Game Number of Moves.

In Austria-Hungary there is a man whose chess player; where name and residence are unknown, but who every now and then shows most remarkable skill in the game. The last story of him is told by James H. Hyatt, of Philadelphia, who has just returned from Budapest. "I was playing chess with a friend in a cafe," says Mr. Hyatt, "and plainly saw my defeat, when a little bit of a shrewd Pala with a tray of cheap jewelry stood in front of us and offered his wares in most assumptive tones. 'Go away,' I said. 'You can beat him,' answered the pedler, whose attention was on the game.
What do you know about it?' I asked.
'May I tell him?' he inquired, looking at my opponent. 'Certainly; crack away,' came the reply in a tone of assurance. 'Take his knight,' said my self-appointed instructor. I did so, to humor him, though I lost my queen by the operation; but, much to my surprise, I found that the very next move gave me the game. 'Let me play with you,' said the pedler. 'I make you in the moves you see and where you say. If you do I will give you 10 forints,' I answered. 'Take the white men. Make me on my queen's fourth square in 22 moves if you can.' We started in my friend keeping account of the moves, and moved rapidly. After about a dozen moves I had the advantage of a bishop and a pawn, and was assured I would defeat my aggressive little opponent. When we set a match go by an apparently careless play I was sure of victory.

Mr. Hyatt relates that the pedler had been carrying the needle about with him for the past thirty-three years. He says he once ran a needle into his right hand when a boy going barefoot.

AL HIXON'S IDEA.

To Raise Fifty Thousand Dollars for Guthrie.

Al G. Hixon, of the main Fe local depot, and one of the most energetic workers in the lodges of the Modern Woodmen of America, offers a good suggestion today which if put in force will result in a fair sum of $50,000 for sustaining humanity along the Texas coast. His proposition is to have W. A. Harbord, head councilor of the Modern Woodmen of America make an appeal to every lodge of the order asking that each member contribute one cent towards the Galveston fund. As there are nearly six hundred thousand members and each member puts in his dime the aggregate would be an immense amount of money and when presented to the councilor of Texas would suffice any donation that he could receive. In corresponding with Mr. Harbord and in conclusion likely that he will approve of the charitable enterprise.
The Modern Woodmen of America is undoubtedly one of the best and strongest fraternal insurance organizations in existence. Their policies are sound and the rates never go up from the fact that their affairs are judiciously managed. Mr. J. B.
Shenker is the organizer for Oklahoma and Indian Territory and his judicious work has made a wide a membership of more than seven thousand.
